Canadian, U.S., and Mexican elites, including CEOs and politicians, have a plan to create common North American policies and further integrate our economies. This plan goes by various names:

- Deep Integration
- Harmonization
- NAFTA-plus
- the "Big Idea"
- the "North American Security and Prosperity Initiative"
- Americanization

Despite the fact that most Canadians want LESS integration with the United States under Bush, not more, this plan and the process of deep integration is unfortunately well underway.

The Canadian government has already:

Created a Canada-U.S.-Mexico task force headed by former Liberal Deputy Prime Minister John Manley which is devising a plan to establish a continent-wide customs union with a common approach to trade, energy, immigration, law enforcement and security that would virtually eliminate existing national borders.

Created a bi-national military planning group (2002), soon expected to release a report recommending how the two countries' militaries can "work together more effectively to counter land-based and maritime threats."

Signed the Canada-U.S. Smart Border Declaration which includes such points as shared customs data, a safe third-country agreement, harmonized commercial processing, etc.

Established the Security and Prosperity Partnership of North America and agreed to harmonize Canadian regulations with U.S. regulations under the 40-Point Smart Regulation Action Plan.

We are running out of time to stop the process of integration.
